8005: Maternity Kit

The supplies that your Gift pays for will help bring another little 'Gift' into the world!

In some rural areas, particularly in India and parts of Africa, Good Gifts works with local organisations to ensure that local health workers are trained and have adequate supplies. These workers are selected from the communities themselves in the absence of professional medical staff, and with enough support they can go on to become fully trained nurses in local hospitals or rural health care centres.

Many community health programmes have reaped the benefits of the Good Gifts Catalogue, and your Gift this time will ensure that further developments are made in this field, so that more babies are brought safely into the world, and their mothers receive the best possible care. The Maternity Kit contains all the sterile and disposable supplies needed for this, wherever the baby is being delivered, to give both mother and child the best possible start to their new adventure together.
